

BACKGROUND PAPER

United Nations Human Rights Council

UNHRC · Room 204

TOPIC 1

Protecting human rights defenders in contexts of shrinking civic space

Human rights implications of biometric surveillance technologies

The Human Rights Council is where states answer for their record and where new standards are written. Delegates will balance the principle of non-interference against the Council's mandate to respond, and will find that the hardest negotiations are over language rather than intent. Strong position papers in this committee cite specific instruments and cases.

Full background paper coming soon.

The Secretariat will publish the complete guide — including the history of the question, bloc positions and questions a resolution must answer — before the conference. Delegates should begin their own research in the meantime.
